Dear Sisters and Brothers

On Wednesday, January 18th, a group from St. Leo and Sacred Heart Parishes attended the archdiocesan convocation that I mentioned to you last week. For me, the blessing of the meeting was to see 800 members of the archdiocese, the vast majority of whom were lay leaders, together in one place. We were a diverse group of passionate people who love Jesus and the mission of the Church.

For the most part, the convocation was a day of prayer and reflection with valuable information about the Archdiocesan planning process interspersed. In the coming days, as the Archdiocese makes more information available for release, we will pass the details along to you via the parish website, Constant Contact, and in person after the weekend masses. The material will give you a sense of what the plan entails, its timeline, and a Q&A about the process.

Fr. Michael G. Ryan, Pastor of St. James Cathedral, in a recent homily explained the need for a structural/pastoral plan in this way:

“The planning is in response to some harsh and unavoidable realities: fewer engaged parishioners in many of our parishes, fewer priests to serve as pastors, fewer seminarians preparing for ordination, insufficient numbers of lay leaders capable of leading parishes, dwindling financial resources, and deferred maintenance on many aging buildings. These realities have made it clear to the leadership of the archdiocese that doing things the way we always have will no longer work - that most of our parishes will no longer be able to go on by themselves but will, instead, need to become part of families of parishes - two, three, or four parishes being served by one pastor and an assisting priest.”

The forthcoming information will explain the process and the timeline that this planning will follow. It will also detail the “family parish” model. My hope is that sometime soon, we can come together as a community to reflect on what this plan might mean for St. Leo and Sacred Heart.

You might be asking the obvious questions. What about the Jesuits? How are they part of this planning? The Jesuit West Province will collaborate with the Archdiocese, as we also are discerning how to deal with similar issues. Our Provincial, Fr. Sean Carroll, S.J. will be in conversation with the Archdiocese as the pastoral plan unfolds.

For all of us there are many unanswered questions, but if the plans of the Archdiocese and the apostolic planning of the Province are fruitful, as this year unfolds, many of the unanswered questions that we now have will be addressed. We will continue to talk about this important matter on the parish level.

As a faith community, let us pray for the people spearheading the plans, that they will truly listen to the Holy Spirit and to the people of God.

May the peace of Christ be with all of us.

Elias Puentes, S.J.

Sick: Angela Firman, Lucille Pruett, John Abbott

Deceased: Lawrence Brennan, Goody Calugas, Mabel Catherine Smith, sister of Tom Erskine, and Mary Lou Whalen, mother of Leanne Horn.

Presentation of the Lord - January 28-29

Candlemas - Candelaria will be celebrated

Saturday, January 28 - at 5:00 PM Vigil Mass

Sunday, January 29 - at 9:30 AM Mass

Candles are blessed on this day in commemoration of the words of Simeon concerning Christ “a light for revelation to the Gentiles” (Luke 2), and a procession with lighted candles happens to represent the entry of Christ, the Light of the World, into the Temple of Jerusalem.

At the beginning of the 5pm Mass we will gather in the narthex of the church for a blessing of candles. You are invited to bring candles to Mass for this blessing and procession.

At the 9:30 Mass on Sunday, you are invited to bring candles as well as a Santo Niño (baby Jesus) to be blessed. The tradition of bringing your baby Jesus from home is popular in many Catholic traditions, especially in the Latino and Filipino cultures.

COMMUNITIES OF CONCERN

CCS/CHS is a leader in the Communities of Concern Commission, a statewide coalition of leaders from Black, Indigenous & Communities of Color in urban and rural areas that are disproportionately affected by poverty and have yet to fully benefit from the economic growth so apparent in many areas of Washington State.

IMMIGRATION

CCS/CHS Network Builder, José Ortiz, was the Keynote Speaker at the Sixth Annual Archdiocesan Immigration Summit which highlighted the mental health, advocacy, legal issues, and refugee sponsorship within immigrant communities.

SYNODAL LISTENING SESSIONS

CCS/CHS facilitated 13 listening sessions for clients, staff, and community partners as part of the Archdiocese of Seattle consultative process for Pope Francis' global synod.

LONG TERM CARE (LTC)

CCS Long Term Care compelling advocacy efforts influenced the Washington State Health Care Authority to make the "most significant anti-poverty change in Long Term Care in many years," raising the personal needs allowance for clients from 100% of Federal Poverty Level (FPL) to 300% of FPL.

Based on a successful pilot program at CCS Nativity House shelter where LTC provided personal care services to guests with functional disabilities, the legislature funded a statewide expansion with oversight provided by LTC.

FAMILY BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

Two CCS clinicians were deployed to provide mental health support to the Catholic Charities team helping families following the tragedy in Uvalde, TX.

Locally, the Washington Council on Behavioral Health named CCS Family Behavioral Health as one of six agencies best qualified to become a teaching clinic for our state's strained mental health system.
